SIR,

I have the honour to inform you that the Aided London Mission High School for girls at Bangalore is located in a building which consists of a hall 40'x14', one class room 14' Sq, and three large rooms about 24'x 12'. There are 90 pupils on the rolls with an average daily attendance of 70 on the 1st of September 1910. There are two departments- High School and A V School - which latter receives a monthly grant of Rs 60, and the former Rs 50. There are twelve teachers in the two departments. The total monthly cost of the whole school is nearly Rs 313. The Managers want to extend the building by the addition of three class rooms at an estimated cost of nearly Rs 2200, as the present accommodation is quite insufficient for class purposes, and as the holding of the classes in the Boarding Department buildings and in the Mission Bungalow is very inconvenient and does not conduce to school discipline. The plan and estimate of the proposed extension have been received in this office. As this is the only school in Bangalore which makes provision for the higher education of Indian girls, I recommend that a building grant of Rs 700 ^{may be sanctioned for the School from the balance of Rs 1000} which is left after distributing Rs 28,000 provided for in the current year's budget for the building and other lump sum
